

Welcome

— Foley Auto Show Program —

We are pleased you could join us for our Auto Show Program and are honored to be your hosts for today's event titled, "Mapping the Route ... Current Trends Impacting Suppliers."

The automotive industry is undergoing a rapid evolution, not only in the way customers select and operate vehicles, but also in the operations, compliance, technology and cyber preparedness of the entire industry - creating unique challenges and opportunities for global automotive suppliers.

This year, we have brought together executive thought leaders who will share their perspectives on how new technology is impacting and creating opportunities around supply chain, cybersecurity, and e-mobility in the automotive industry.

Again, thank you for joining us. We hope you find today's program both interesting and informative.

Sincerely,
