Natalie is a seasoned litigator specializing in high-stakes cases across federal and state courts, as well as in arbitration settings. With comprehensive experience at every stage of trial, Natalie has skillfully argued motions in federal courts and arbitrations, deposed key witnesses, and conducted rigorous cross-examinations. Her multifaceted practice spans numerous legal areas, including complex commercial litigation, investigations, pharmaceuticals, trade secret actions, and intellectual property.

Throughout her career, Natalie has adeptly handled disputes involving patent licensing agreements, breaches of fiduciary duties, contract disputes, and product liability claims. She has successfully litigated arbitrations before prominent bodies such as the American Arbitration Association (AAA), Judicial Arbitration and Mediation Service (JAMS), and the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) tribunals.
