Christopher Duda is an associate in Foley & Lardner LLP's Tampa office, where he brings practicality and knowledge to complex business transactions. Christopher is a member of the firm's Real Estate Practice and Energy Sector, with a focus in Renewables. He has experience with projects spanning over 20 states, encompassing solar, wind and hydroelectric energy production from the lending, sale, acquisition, tax equity investment and development perspectives. He is also a member of the firm's Hospitality & Leisure Industry Team. Christopher's hospitality practice focuses primarily on the sale and acquisition of hotels, as well as golf and country clubs.

Prior to joining Foley, Christopher was a legislative intern to Congressman Tom Rooney in The United States House of Representatives. He was also a legal assistant, where he independently oversaw a six-month process that involved the assistance of the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) and the U.S. Copyright Office in establishing a corporation, and then successfully acquired three trademarks and two copyrights.
