

Kenna Pierce

Associate

kenna.pierce@foley.com

Boston

617.226.3164

Kenna Pierce is a member of our Transactions Practice Group where she assists clients in a range of corporate law and transactional matters. She began her career at Foley as a summer associate. During law school, she worked with the Harvard Law Entrepreneurship Project. In this role, she led a student and attorney team that provided a local start-up with counsel on incorporation and capitalization. She also served as a research assistant under Harvard Law School professor, Deborah Anker, where she wrote text for the Law of Asylum treatise discussing changes in firm resettlement regulations.

Languages

- Spanish

Practice Areas

- Corporate
- Transactions

Education

- Harvard University (J.D., 2024)
 - Technical Editor, Harvard Journal on Legislation
- Brigham Young University (B.A., summa cum laude, 2021)
 - Major in Communications
 - Minor in Editing

Admissions

- Massachusetts