Kelsey Boehm is a litigation senior counsel at Foley & Lardner LLP, who assists Foley's clients in a wide array of complex commercial litigation matters including class action defense, contract disputes, securities matters, and intellectual property litigation. Kelsey also has experience advising clients in connection with government investigations and regarding accounting related issues. Kelsey gains clients' trust by gaining a full understanding of their business objectives and informing practical legal strategies tailored to their specific needs.

Kelsey has substantial experience advising clients in the food and beverage, fashion and beauty, health care, and automotive industries. She has secured favorable results for clients across all phases of litigation, including pleading stage, discovery, summary judgment, mediation, arbitration and trials, and appeals.

Kelsey is recognized not only for her strengths as a lawyer, but for her willingness to tackle difficult cases, volunteer in the community, and as an advocate for diversity in the legal profession.
