

Cassandra M. Klosterman Aubert Associate

cassandra.aubert@foley.com

Washington, D.C.
202.295.4150

Cassandra Klosterman is an associate working with the Commercial Litigation group in the firm's Washington, D.C. office.

Cassandra was a local election administrator in St. Louis County, Missouri and WashU's first Voter Engagement Fellow prior to law school. While at Duke Law School, she interned with the Department of Justice in the Public Integrity Section where she conducted research on bribery, ethics, and evidentiary issues and participated in criminal trial preparation. Cassandra also externed with North Carolina Board of Elections Office of the General Counsel, helping to provide advice to local election boards and assisting in the drafting of election technology regulations. She served as a member of the Mock Trial Board after arguing for the runner-up team in the Twiggs-Beskind Cup. Cassandra worked as a summer associate at Foley.

Awards and Recognitions

- Outstanding Pro Bono Service, Duke Law School (2023)
- Runner-up, Twiggs-Beskind Cup (2021)
- College Honors, Washington University in St. Louis (2016)
- Dean's List, Washington University in St. Louis (2013)
- Youth Delegate to Leshan, China, Gilbert Sister Cities (2011)

Affiliations

- Alumni Council, Gephardt Institute for Civic and Community Engagement

Presentation and Publications

- Co-author, "DOJ to Ramp up Antitrust Enforcement in Agriculture Sector," Foley Insights (July 8, 2024)

Practice Areas

- Commercial Litigation

- Litigation
- Securities Enforcement & Litigation

Education

- Duke University School of Law (J.D., 2023)
 - Public Interest and Public Service Law Certificate
 - Vice President of Finance, Women Law Students' Association
 - Library Faculty Research Assistant
 - Mock Trial Board
 - Eviction Clinic Volunteer
 - Expunction Clinic Volunteer
 - Clemency Project Volunteer
- Washington University in St. Louis (B.A., college honors, 2016)

Admissions

- District of Columbia