

Donivine E. Stewart

Associate

donivine.stewart@foley.com

Chicago

312.832.4786

Donivine Stewart is an associate and business lawyer who represents public and private companies in a broad range of transactional matters, including domestic and cross-border mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance, securities, finance, and general commercial arrangements. He advises clients throughout the corporate life cycle and brings a practical, business-focused approach to complex transactions.

Donivine maintains a significant practice in the Energy & Infrastructure sector. He represents developers, sponsors, and investors through all phases of renewable energy project development, including matters involving solar and battery energy storage systems, and assists clients in structuring and developing financeable and market-ready renewable energy assets.

As part of his broader corporate practice, Donivine also advises clients operating in the blockchain and digital assets space. His work includes counseling on regulatory and transactional considerations involving emerging technologies, supporting clients developing or engaging with crypto-asset products, and assisting with general corporate matters in the Innovative Technology sector.

Across his practice, Donivine provides strategic, commercially grounded counsel to clients operating in both established and rapidly developing industries.

Sectors

- Blockchain & Digital Assets
- Consumer Products
- Energy & Infrastructure
- Innovative Technology
- Manufacturing

Practice Areas

- Corporate
- Transactions

Education

- Loyola University Chicago School of Law (J.D., 2024)
- Southern Illinois University Edwardsville (B.A., Business Administration and Management, 2015)

Admissions

- Illinois