Brandee Diamond advises investors, corporate boards, and public and private companies in complex domestic and cross-border transactions in a range of industries, including life sciences, technology, food and beverage, apparel, print and digital media, and financial services. She is a partner based in the firm's San Francisco office, where she is a member of the Transactions Practice. Brandee also works closely with the firm's Austin office.

With her distinguished background, Brandee has extensive experience with corporate mergers and acquisitions, dispositions, minority investments, joint ventures, and assisting with growth equity transactions, leveraged buyouts, going-private transactions, recapitalizations, and exits. She handles all aspects of the deal process, including working with corporate boards and senior management on pre-acquisition planning, transaction structuring, drafting, and negotiating acquisition and related agreements and post-acquisition integration planning.

In addition to her transactional work, Brandee counsels emerging growth companies across the full spectrum of the company's lifecycle, encompassing formation and development, compensation, financing, and other corporate matters.
