Maureen Easton is a partner and business lawyer with Foley & Lardner LLP. She has extensive experience in mergers and acquisitions and private equity and venture capital transactions in a variety of industries including insurance, manufacturing, and financial technologies. Maureen also advises companies in connection with general corporate and governance matters. She works as her clients' trusted partner to advance their business interests and avoid potential problems through active listening, creative negotiation, and precise drafting of documents. She is a member of the Transactions and Insurance Practice Groups; the Manufacturing and Innovative Technology Sectors; and the Food & Beverage Industry Team, where she leads the firm's Craft Beer practice.

Maureen's insurance industry experience includes representation of life and property/casualty insurers in mergers and acquisitions; venture capital investments by insurers in insurtech and fintech companies; mutual insurance holding company mergers and conversions; governance advice; new company formation; and strategic partnership transactions.
