

David S. Elder

Partner/Retired

David Elder represents primarily creditors in bankruptcy, workouts and foreclosure matters, especially in the real estate, oil and gas, and chemical refinery sectors. Often called in by Texas lenders to restructure single asset or multiple asset portfolios, David is equally in demand by out of state institutions referred to him by current and former clients.

He has recently handled lien priority disputes, represented landlords who own tracts of land they have leased and now have trouble with the tenants and handled foreclosures on real and personal property. David is known for his 24/7 availability, and readiness and capacity to answer even the most difficult questions.
