Grace Fucci is a corporate attorney, advising clients ranging from multinational corporations to startups on a broad range of business matters, with an emphasis on mergers, acquisitions, and private equity investments. She is an associate in the firm's Transactions Practice and a member of the Innovative Technology Sector and the Fashion, Apparel, and Beauty Industry Team.

Working with clients in a variety of industries, Grace provides guidance on formation matters, day-to-day corporate work, venture capital financings, and complex mergers and acquisitions. Grace's practice includes advising private equity funds and closely held or family-owned businesses through sale events, where she learns the ins and outs of her clients' businesses and what matters most to them. As a result, Grace's clients often view her as not just outside counsel, but as an indispensable extension of their team.

Grace makes pro bono work a cornerstone of her practice and regularly advises founders and mission-driven pro bono clients on corporate matters. Outside of her work at the firm, Grace serves on the Advisory Council of Zoo New England, a private, non-profit, 501(c)(3) organization dedicated to wildlife and conservation programs, research, and education.

Grace began her career with Foley as a summer associate in 2021. While in law school, she served as a judicial intern for the Honorable Esther Salas in the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey, and for the Honorable M. Hannah Lauck in the Eastern District of Virginia. Grace also researched and drafted appellate briefs on numerous constitutional issues as a student advocate for the Appellate & Supreme Court Clinic.
