Steve Gerenraich is a partner and business lawyer with Foley & Lardner LLP. His practice focuses on the areas of mergers & acquisitions (M&A), private equity and venture capital, joint venture, and other commercial transactions, with particular experience in health care and health care-related companies, as well as energy and infrastructure. Steve is a member of the firm's Health Care & Life Sciences and Energy sectors, and the Food & Beverage industry team.

Steve has represented nonprofit and for-profit institutional health care providers (hospitals, health systems, and integrated delivery systems), large physician groups, specialty providers (ASC development organizations), private equity firms, and industry consultants in a wide variety of health care transactions, including purchases and sales, mergers, transfers of sponsorship of hospitals and health systems, physician practice acquisitions, and complex joint venture arrangements.

Steve also has extensive experience in the infrastructure, construction, and renewable energy fields, where he has represented publicly- and privately-held companies, private equity funds, investment banking firms, entrepreneurs, and other interested parties in mergers, sales, acquisitions, 363 Sales and other distressed acquisitions, reorganizations, management buyouts, and other restructurings as well as private placements, venture capital transactions, and other equity and debt financings.

He also represents companies, both public and private, in a number of other industries, including insurance, financial services, transportation, metal recycling, manufacturing, and consumer products in connection with both mergers and acquisitions as well as a variety of day-to-day legal and business issues, including securities law compliance, corporate governance, supply agreements, sales representative agreements, licensing arrangements, employment agreements, consulting agreements, and purchase arrangements as well as more complex commercial arrangements such as joint ventures and other strategic alliances.
