Elysia Lampert is an associate in the Litigation Department with Foley & Lardner LLP. Elysia is based in the Chicago office where she is a member of the Commercial Litigation Practice Group.

Elysia graduated cum laude from the University of Minnesota Law School where she was a Note and Comment Editor for the Minnesota Journal of International Law and a Master of Laws legal writing teaching assistant. Prior to joining, Elysia was a student attorney for the law school's Consumer Protection Clinic and a summer legal intern in the Office of Enforcement at the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau in Washington DC.

Her volunteer activities include teaching English as a second language to adult refugees, and educating students about legal rights and the judicial system through the Street Law program. Elysia was also a summer associate at Foley where she researched and drafted internal legal memoranda and documents for litigation.
