

Wayman C. Lawrence

Partner/Retired

Since 1987, Wayman C. Lawrence IV has concentrated his practice on business transactions subsidized by federal tax credits, including the low-income housing tax credit, historic rehabilitation credit, new markets tax credit, and alternative energy credits. He is a partner in the firm's Energy Industry Team and Taxation and Real Estate Practices.

Recently, Wayman has structured and/or provided tax opinions for 20 solar energy investment tax credit transactions with an aggregate rated capacity of over 13 megawatts. His client base includes tax credit project developers and consultants, institutional tax credit purchasers, tax credit syndicators, and governmental agencies involved in tax credit subsidized transactions. Wayman also has extensive experience in structuring tax partnerships between institutional tax credit investors and developers in the alternative energy, housing, and commercial real estate markets.

Awards and Recognition

- Peer Review Rated as BV® Distinguished™, a mark of excellence in Martindale-Hubbell's peer review rating system

Sectors

- Power & Renewables

Practice Areas

- Corporate
- Economic Development & Government Incentives
- Opportunity Zones
- Real Estate
- Taxation

Education

- Hastings College of the Law, University of California (J.D., 1981)
 - Order of the Coif
- New York University (LL.M., 1983)
- University of California at Santa Cruz (Bachelor's degree)

Admissions

- Wisconsin
- California