Norka Lecca is an immigration lawyer, representing private individuals, investors, multinational corporations, and startup companies with business-related immigration issues. She is an associate in the firm's Immigration, Nationality, and Consular Law Practice, a member of the Government Solutions Group, and a member of the Manufacturing Sector.

Norka represents clients in employment-based immigrant and non-immigrant visa petitions, investment visas, employer compliance with immigration and labor regulations, family-based immigrant visa petitions, consular processing, and naturalization in front of U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL), U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE), and the U.S. Department of State (DOS).

Prior to joining Foley, Norka worked as an associate attorney at a boutique immigration law firm, where she represented clients in employment-based and family-based immigrant visa petitions, extraordinary ability visas, national interest waivers, multinational manager/executive visas, investor visas, naturalization proceedings, consular processing, and removal proceedings.
