Matthew D. Lee is an experienced bankruptcy, restructuring, and real estate and business litigation attorney. He is a partner and a member of the firm's Bankruptcy & Business Reorganizations and Business Litigation & Dispute Resolution Practices. Matt is based in the firm's Madison, Wisconsin office and has practice experience nationwide.

Matt represents Chapter 11 debtors, secured and unsecured creditors, official committees of unsecured creditors, chapter 7 trustees and other estate fiduciaries, and defendants in avoidance actions. In addition to his bankruptcy experience, Matt counsels clients in out-of-court restructurings, workouts, assignments for the benefits of creditors including those filed under Chapter 128 of the Wisconsin Statutes, and other insolvency matters.

His real estate litigation practice encompasses eminent domain proceedings, land use and zoning disputes, foreclosure litigation, lease disputes and eviction actions, and other disputes involving real property interests. His business litigation practice encompasses, among other areas, construction disputes, and commercial contract disputes. He also counsels his clients before a dispute or insolvency arises on the issues of litigation avoidance, loss mitigation, and risk management.
