Mark Neuberger provides A to Z representation of management in all areas of employment law, including general labor and employment guidance and compliance with workplace-related immigration laws. He serves as co-chair of the firm's multidisciplinary Cannabis Industry Team and regularly advises companies both in and out of the cannabis industry on multitude of legal issues presented by legalization. He is also a member of the firm's Transactions Practice Group and regular works on the labor and employment issues inherent in buy/sell and financing transactions.

Mark regularly represents clients in the health care, hospitality, manufacturing and not-for-profit industries. In addition, Mark serves on Foley's national Pro Bono Legal Services Committee.

Mark represents employers in employment litigation matters before administrative agencies, such as the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and National Labor Relations Board, arbitration tribunals, as well as state and federal trial and appellate courts. He has extensive experience negotiating collective bargaining agreements with unions. He also negotiates and drafts executive level employment agreements. He has litigated a wide variety of discrimination claims, whistleblower actions, wage payment and Fair Labor Standards Act cases. In addition, Mark drafts and litigates covenants not-to-compete and other employment-related restrictions. Mark also advises clients on a variety of business-related immigration issues, including audits of employers' compliance with immigration and labor regulations, I-9 and E-Verify compliance as well as preparation of employment-based immigrant visa petitions, preparation of investment and professional visas and labor certifications.

Prior to becoming an attorney, Mark worked for 10 years in the human resources department of a Fortune 100 corporation. Mark is a frequent speaker and trainer on various labor and employment-related topics. Clients frequently utilize Mark's practical experiences by retaining him to conduct in-house management training on a variety of employment-related topics.

Representative Experience

- Represented 401GO, a fully-owned 401(k)-management platform, in its $33 million Series B funding round.
- Fraga v. Prestige Cruise Services – After a jury trial, obtained a defense verdict on behalf of passenger cruise line in a claim under the Florida Whistle-blower's Act. Also obtained a judgment for attorney's fees against the plaintiff.
- Valley Forge Fabrics Inc. v.
