

Chris E. Rossman
Partner/Retired

Chris E. Rossman is a retired partner and health care lawyer with Foley & Lardner LLP. He has represented health care clients exclusively throughout his career and has experience in all areas of health care law, with a concentration of experience in the M&A, transactions, reimbursement and payment, and compliance areas. His national practice has resulted in clients in over 25 states. He lead the firm's health care practice for the Detroit Office.

Chris M&A and transactional experience has been focused primarily on representing hospitals, health systems, and other providers. His strong background in reimbursement, payment and compliance issues, combined with his transactional experience, gave him the ability to provide strategic advice in structuring transactions.

Representative Experience
