

Allen M. Wang Of Counsel

allen.wang@foley.com

Sacramento
415.438.6456

Allen Wang helps clients navigate the complexities of energy finance and corporate transactions with strategic legal insight and industry expertise. With a deep understanding of the renewable energy sector, he counsels businesses on project finance, regulatory compliance, and risk mitigation, ensuring they can capitalize on emerging opportunities while managing legal and financial challenges.

As a former general counsel of one of the world's largest solar technology and renewable energy companies, Allen has played a key role in high-profile energy transactions, advising on mergers, acquisitions, and large-scale project development across global markets. His experience includes structuring and negotiating power purchase agreements, supply chain contracts, and financing arrangements that drive growth in the renewable energy space. He also provides strategic guidance on regulatory matters, governmental investigations, and cybersecurity risks.

With a business-oriented legal approach, Allen helps clients optimize transactions, manage risk, and navigate the evolving energy landscape. At Foley & Lardner, he continues to support businesses in achieving their energy and financial objectives with innovative and strategic legal solutions.

Allen is an of counsel attorney based in the firm's Sacramento office, where he is a member of the Business Law Department and firm's Energy Sector.

Sectors

- Energy & Infrastructure

Practice Areas

- Corporate
- Finance

Education

- Vanderbilt University Law School (J.D., 2005)
- UNC Kenan-Flagler Business School, (MAcc, 1999)
- University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, (B.S., 1998)
 - Business Administration

Admissions

- California
- U.S. District Court, Central District of California