

Casey Y. Geng

Associate

casey.geng@foley.com

Los Angeles

213.972.4585

Casey Geng is a member of our Commercial Litigation Practice Group and is based in our Los Angeles office. Prior to joining Foley, Casey was a Foley summer associate, a judicial intern for the Honorable Chari L. Kelly in the Texas 3rd Court of Appeals, and was a judicial extern for the Honorable Michael J. Cassidy in the Orange County Superior Court. In these positions, Casey researched and wrote memorandums for his judges on various areas of the law, including immigration and habeas corpus.

While in law school, Casey gained trial experience with the University of Texas Children's Rights Clinic—Casey worked with the clinic to secure better housing conditions and school funding for the clinic's clients. Casey also served as the Featured Content Editor on the Texas Law Review Executive Board as part of Volume 102.

Languages

- Cantonese
- Mandarin
- Spanish

Practice Areas

- Commercial Litigation
- Litigation

Education

- The University of Texas (J.D., 2024)
 - Featured Content Editor, Texas Law Review
- The University of Southern California (B.A., summa cum laude, 2020)

Admissions

California